

HORTICULTURAL SECTION

The challenge of growing flowers and vegetables for the show bench has a fascination for newcomers and experienced growers alike. The aim is to look for flowers, fruit and vegetable specimens that are as near perfect as possible – this means no damage, no signs of disease and nice even growth. Growing an even sample that conforms to defined condition, size and uniformity, presented in the approved way is considered to test the growing skill of the exhibitor to the highest level.
